Church & State – Persecution and Adoption

Persecution – Why?

• Christians don’t worship the Emperor (bad for loyalty and unity)
• Christians are Atheists – worship invisible God not “the gods” (I Thessalonians 1:9)
• Christians are unpatriotic – don’t participate in civic events
• Christians disrupt [idol selling?] business
• Christianity is responsible for economic decline, plagues, invasions, etc.
• Christians are Cannibals – Rumors spread from Communion
• Christians practice Incest – Rumors from references to brother / sister and greetings with holy kiss
• Christians are anti-family (willing to leave relatives for their cause)
• Christianity is one of those new-fangled eastern mystical religions
• Christians are odd and secretive

I Thessalonians 1:9 – “For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God”
Church & State – Persecution and Adoption

Persecution – How Much?

• Persecutions Were Generally Sporadic and Geographically Isolated
  ➢ Persecutions were most often localized
  ➢ Substantial intervals of relative peace are experienced
  ➢ For most of the 2nd and 3rd Century “Trajan’s Advice” to Pliny applied
    ❖ Do not expend effort seeking out Christians (it’s not worth the effort and cost)
    ❖ If someone is accused, give them opportunity to recant
      ▪ If they recant pardon them
      ▪ If they do not recant they must be punished
    ❖ Don’t trust anonymous accusations (bad legal precedent “unworthy of the age”)

• There are Conspicuous Exceptions

Tacitus, Roman Senator & Historian (died 117 AD) - “Great empires are not maintained by timidity”

Aleksandr Men, Eastern Orthodox Preacher (1935–1990) – “No living creature, except for a man, is able to take a risk, and even the risk of death, for the sake of truth. Thousands of martyrs who have lived are a unique phenomenon in the history of our solar system.”
Church & State – Persecution and Adoption

Persecution – Polycarp, Bishop of Smyrna, martyred in 155

<td>Marcus Aurelius</td>
<td>Early in his reign the empire experiences invasions, floods, famine, and disasters. Are these Christians bringing disfavor from the gods?</td>
<td>One example – A consecrated widow (one given to the care of the church) and 8 sons are accused of practicing Christianity. Led by the widow they refuse to worship the gods and emperor. The case is escalated from local official to Marcus Aurelius who orders them all killed then buried in eight different parts of the city. (Likely this was done to appease 8 gods)</td>
<td>Contrast between reputation as enlightened and refined leader and cruel actions against Christians.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

- Relatively enlightened and refined. His Meditations recognized as a literary masterpiece of the times
- Praised those ready to leave their body [die] when the time comes when this is done out of reason, but not obstinacy [like Christians]
- Superstitious – consults seers & signs, into sacrifices

Hebrews 13:5-6 – “Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have; for he hath said, “I will never leave thee nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.”

<td>Decius</td>
<td>Believed the people had abandoned the gods. If everyone turned back to the gods perhaps the gods would favor the empire again.</td>
<td>It was mandatory for everyone to worship the Roman gods and burn incense before a statue of the emperor. If you did you got a certificate so indicating, if not you were considered an outlaw.</td>
<td>Decius’ goal to a greater degree than others was to create apostates (i.e., force Christians to worship the Roman gods) not martyrs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Current generation of Christians who had been relatively persecution free for ~40 years were not prepared for this - Some obeyed the command (apostates) - Some bought false certificates - Some resisted for awhile but gave in - Some stood fast</td>

Galerius

- Was Diocletian’s subordinate emperor in the East
- Ill will toward Christians

Diocletian

- New era of prosperity and peace
- Reorganized empire with 4 emperors recognized (2 East, 2 West)
- His wife and daughters were Christians

Original issue – Military Service
- Galerius convinces Diocletian to expel Christians from army.
- Officers, fearing thinning of ranks, attempt to force Christians to deny faith.
- Galerius convinces Diocletian to ban Christians from all positions of responsibility in the empire
- Fire at royal court, Galerius blames Christians

~295 – Many Christians are condemned to death for refusing service or desertion.

- Christians banned from government positions and Christian buildings and books are to be destroyed. Any who refuse to turn over writings are tortured and killed.
- Diocletian orders all Christians at court to sacrifice to gods (his wife & daughter do) and all who refuse are martyred.
- Overzealous leaders throughout empire follow this example
- Results in torture / slaughter, apostasy, and some Christians fleeing to Persia

Revelation 17:5–6 – “And upon her forehead was a name written, Mystery, Babylon The Great, The Mother Of Harlots And Abominations Of The Earth. And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration [amazement].”
Church & State – Persecution and Adoption

Persecution – Results

• Purified the Church
  ➢ If you weren’t serious you probably didn’t stick around

• Extended the Church
  ➢ Estimate ~10% of empire’s population Christian by early 4th Century
Church & State – Persecution and Adoption

Adoption – Historical Background

• Power players at Galerius’ death
  ➢ Constantine (declared Emperor in Eboracum [York]) - West
  ➢ Maxentius (seen by others as usurper, occupies Rome) – West
  ➢ Licinius - East
  ➢ Maximinus Daia (Christian persecutor) - East

• Constantine’s Military Campaign
  ➢ Crosses Alps from Gaul (France) into Italy
  ➢ Maxentius (trusting augury) leaves fortified Rome to engage Constantine in the field
  ➢ Constantine’s vision (or dream)
  ➢ Constantine victorious at Milvian Bridge (Maxentius killed)

• Constantine (W) and Licinius (E) Agree to Edict of Milan in 313
  ➢ Christians (and others) free to practice religion
  ➢ Property taken in persecutions returned to Christians
Church & State – Persecution and Adoption

Adoption – Constantine the Politician & Military Leader

- Constantine was a shrewd planner
  - Made sure to engage enemies one at a time
  - Prepared for years for campaign against Maxentius
  - Married his sister to Licinius

- Constantine and Licinius both desire the entire empire
  - Assassination attempt on Constantine
  - Constantine takes portion of Licinius’ territory
  - Battle at Chrysopolis 324 AD – Constantine wins, Licinius flees
  - Licinius murdered, Constantine emperor of combined empire

- Constantine plans to restore Rome’s glory this time as a Christian Empire
  - Driven by friction with the Senate in Rome, and location of greatest external threats, moves capitol of empire to Constantinople, Asia Minor

Constantine – “The eternal, holy and unfathomable goodness of God does not allow me to wander in darkness, but shows us the way of salvation”

Eusebius of Caesarea – “Looking westward or eastward, looking over the whole earth, and even looking at heaven, always and everywhere I see blessed Constantine leading the same empire”
Adoption – The Rest of the 4th Century Story

• Constantine succeeded by his Christian son Constantius
• Julian “the Apostate” succeeds Constantius (rules 361-363)
  ➢ Converts from Christianity to Paganism - likely driven by Constantine’s sons killing his relatives who were potential challengers in the line of succession
  ➢ Launched abortive attempt to revert empire to pre-Christian ways
  ➢ Dies in battle with Persia
• Theodosius becomes emperor in 379
  ➢ Christianity established as official religion of the Roman empire in 380
  ➢ Estimate ~50-67% of empire’s population is Christian at the end of the 4th century

Dr. David Calhoun – “With Theodosius we move into a period that we can call ‘Christendom’, in which state and church are closely aligned, and in which laws will prohibit the practice of other religions or even the practice of heretical Christianity.”
